

What About the Schools' 6-Million Liquor Taxes?

I wrote in Saturday's edition that "there is a real necessity behind the school proposition Amendment No. 41" — and while it does seem that an editor ought to allow a decent interval before reversing himself it looks as though I am going to have to qualify in this edition what I published in the edition just before it.

Being as the November election is still some weeks away I didn't actually commit myself to endorsement of Amendment No. 41 — but I threw out a broad hint. Amendment No. 41 would "freeze" the first 32 million dollars of state general revenue for the public schools.

"When the people enact a new tax for a specific purpose," I wrote Saturday, "it ought to be held to that purpose and that alone."

That is the Star's basic position, and I'll stand on it — just as we have fought for many years to halt the perpetual raiding of school funds for minor governmental purposes.

But I find an insoluble problem coming up in the November general election. Here it is:

Amendment No. 41 would "freeze" for the schools an amount equal to $8 per month for each school-age child, currently estimated as the first 32 million dollars reaching the state general fund each year. But on the same November ballot we are likely to vote on a state-wide prohibition measure.

I am informed by Hempstead county school men that liquor taxes produce 6 million dollars a year for the public schools.

If Amendment No. 41 should pass, taking away 32 million dollars at the bottom, and state-wide prohibition should win, taking away liquor taxes at the top — there wouldn't be much left for all the other agencies of government in between, would there?

One school man told me this morning: "But fancy where the schools would be if Amendment 41 fails and prohibition wins . . . We'd just put our hats on and call it a day."

I haven't yet made up my mind about this. We are in a close and most dangerous financial spot. One rule in the moment of peril is to treat everything that is offered on the November initiative and referendum ballot. But that is being mulish. Propositions ought to be debated, examined, weighed, and then voted on.

But I have found out one thing for certain: The school people are against state-wide prohibition.

Where will we get 6 million dollars a year for the schools if the liquor taxes are lost?

And the very presence of the prohibition question on the November ballot is damaging the chances of Amendment No. 41.

Contempt Conviction Upheld

Little Rock, Oct. 2 — (P) — The Arkansas Supreme court today upheld a lower court's order finding 11 men guilty of contempt of court in connection with a labor dispute at a coal mine of Utah Construction company.

The dispute involved an attempt by the United Mine Workers of America to obtain a contract at the mine. Massed picketing on roads leading to the mine halted work and the company applied for and obtained an injunction against attempts to stop work at the mine.

Subsequently, 22 men were cited for contempt by Chancellor C. M. Wofford, but after hearing, the chancellor found only 11 guilty.

Woodrow Thompson was fined $25 on a charge of threatening William Almond, a Utah employee; Matt Snider was fined $25 on a charge of attempting to intimidate Jack Morton, Utah employee; Robert Blackwood, Forrest Killough, Homer McCleary, Orville Marvel and Henry Webb were fined $25 each.

Bud Wise was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail, and Bud Ross was fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail on charges of attempting to prevent Ed Willey from hauling shale to the mine.

The Supreme court said the contempt proceedings involved criminal contempt, and therefore proof had to be "beyond a reasonable doubt." Testimony was conflicting and the mass of testimony was on the side of the defendants.

The Supreme court said, however, that evidence "is to be tested by the truth and not by the number of witnesses." It cited Chancellor Wofford's review of the testimony in his decree, in which he at one point said of some defense testimony, "I don't believe a word of it."

Court Removes 2 Amendments From Ballot

Little Rock, Oct. 2 — (P) — Two proposed constitutional amendments were removed from the November general election ballot by the Arkansas supreme court today.

In an opinion by Justice J. S. Holt, the court held that petitions to initiate a home rule amendment for municipalities and repeal of the so-called freedom to work amendment did not have sufficient names.

Separate suits attacking the two proposals were consolidated by the court and one opinion handed down. Issues in both were the same.

William F. Clements, Jr., brought the action against the home rule amendment, which was sponsored by the Arkansas Municipal League.

J. B. Witche, executive secretary of the Arkansas Free Enterprise association, attacked the petitions of the freedom to work repealer.

That proposal was sponsored by the Little Rock typographical union and other labor groups.

The home rule amendment proposed to give cities wide powers to levy taxes, make local laws and otherwise govern themselves independently. The Arkansas constitution now limits the authority of cities on taxation and other matters.

The freedom to work amendment prohibits making union membership a condition of employment and prohibits closed shop contracts. The typographical union's proposal amendment would have repealed that amendment in its entirety.

Both, being proposed constitutional amendments, needed 24,930 signatures of qualified voters to initiate under the state's initiative and referendum provisions.

The supreme court said that the freedom to work repeal amendment petitions contained 25,929 names, but that 1,020 of the signatures were those of persons whose names did not appear on official poll tax lists and 2,616 other names were forgeries.

In the home rule amendment petitions there were 25,534 signatures of which, the court said, 1,423 did not appear on poll tax lists.

One other of the initiative proposals submitted for a vote of the people in the November general election, also is under court attack. It is the proposed statewide prohibition act. The court today formally advanced it for submission Oct. 9.

McAlister Named Head of State Military

Little Rock, Oct. 2 — (P) — Brig. Gen. H. L. McAlister today was appointed adjutant general of the Arkansas military department. He will head the state's national guard's units.

McAlister, a veteran officer of the guard and military department will serve as adjutant general during the absence of Brig. Gen. Earl Ricks. Ricks was given a leave of absence from that post last week to become acting deputy chief of the air national guard in Washington.

Erase 38th Parallel Asks Senator

Washington, Oct. 2 — (P) — Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) urged today that the United Nations erase the 38th parallel dividing line and unite Korea.

Sparkman, a member of the American delegation to the U. N., told reporters on a brief visit to Washington that no partition line should be permitted to interfere with the final destruction of North Korean aggressive powers.

"Whether United Nations forces should cross the 38th parallel, was a military decision, of course," he said. "But as a layman it seems to me that it will be necessary to continue military action until the North Korean power of aggression is broken."

Already, South Korean forces have plunged across the boundary under U. N. military orders, pending a response from the North Korean Reds to a demand for surrender or "early and total defeat."

Sparkman said he believes that after victory, the United Nations should take over in Korea on the basis of a unified nation, moving toward the establishment of a democratic government for all of the people there.

"I hope we will erase the 38th parallel as a dividing line," Sparkman said.

His views apparently coincide with those of many of his colleagues in congress. Senator Bridges (R-NH) said in a weekend broadcast that the 38th parallel is only an "imaginary line" which should not be permitted to stand in the way of a unified Korea.

And Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said in a telegram to Secretary of State Acheson that the United States ought not to become a party to any plan to re-establish a new "iron curtain" at the 38th parallel.

"The United Nations cannot temporize with the lawless forces of aggression," O'Mahoney declared. "Disarm them now. Demand the immediate release of all prisoners and the restoration of the loot which has been taken from South Korea."

Big Decisions Expected From U. S. High Court

Washington, Oct. 2 — (P) — An 11-minute session started the supreme court today on a new term destined to yield far-reaching decisions on national problems.

Led by Chief Justice Vinson, eight black-robed jurists marched slowly into a packed courtroom of the stroke of noon EST. Justice William Douglas joined his colleagues on the high bench just two minutes before the court recessed.

Douglas had flown back from a tour of the Far East. He hurried from the airport to take part in the opening session.

Washington, Oct. 2 — (P) — The supreme court reassembles today for a new term in which it faces momentous decisions affecting Communism, race relations and other major national problems.

At the forefront of attention is an appeal by 11 top U. S. Communist party leaders who were convicted in New York of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

They have asked the highest tribunal to grant a review of the trial overturn the convictions, and throw out their jail sentences and fines. They assert that:

"There is no testimony in the record that during the entire period of the indictment any of the 11 personally taught or advocated that the government be overthrown by force or violence."

The 1950-51 court term could bring also final test of the new anti-Communist law passed by congress over President Truman's veto. Some attorneys say such a test is not likely to reach the court for several years, but others believe a speeded-up case could be rushed to the nine justices before adjournment time next June.

Already on the docket for early hearings are three appeals on testing validity of the government's loyalty program and a fourth questioning whether grand jury witnesses may be held for contempt because they refuse to answer questions about Communist party activities.

Racial problems also will give the court some of its more noteworthy cases in the new session.

To start off, Texas wants the court to reconsider its decision of last June requiring admission of a Negro student to the white law school of the University of Texas.

The justices must decide, too, if they will grant a hearing to Willie McGee, a Mississippi Negro whose death sentence for rape of a white woman has been protested by many persons, including some described as Communists.

Hard to Imagine Quick Win in Korea After Two Months of Nothing But Defeats

By DON WHITEHEAD (For Hal Boyle)

Somewhere in Korea — (P) — The victory of United Nations' arms over the North Korean Communists has come so swiftly that it is difficult to realize the Korean war may be almost over.

For two months there was nothing but defeat after defeat . . . nothing but those heartbreaking retreats in which weary American troops fell back time and time again with that familiar refrain, "to new positions."

Always the Americans were in the desperate and cruel position of retreating. A ruthless enemy was the hunter, his hordes ever threatening the defenders.

Just one month ago the U. N. troops were so hard pressed that even Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commanding general of the Eighth army, was where he could hold the thin line.

And then — with the behind the lines invasion at Inchon on Sept. 15 — the whole war turned a flip flop; almost overnight U. M. forces were hunters and the Reds were the hunted, fighting desperately to survive.

In a reporter's measure of time the shift in fortunes came in one single notebook full of notes — 160 small pages of scribbled names and events which record the march from the Inchon beachhead to the capture of Seoul.

That notebook is frayed and stained, but when I leaf through it the lines come to life and scenes flash across the pages as clear and bright as the day they were imprinted on my memory.

There was the debris and the ob-scene destruction of war on the road from battered Inchon towards Seoul.

A black and white cartoon illustration by Herby. A man in a suit is sitting in a large armchair, reading a newspaper. Behind him, a fireplace is filled with smoke, and a small child is peeking out from behind the mantelpiece, looking distressed. A woman stands to the left, looking at the man with a worried expression. The man is completely unaware of the smoke. The signature 'HERBY' and the date '10-2' are in the bottom right corner.

An official announcement was expected soon, however, on this campaign which may turn out to be a final cautious testing of Communist determination — including that of the Chinese Reds — to fight to the end.

South Korean and U.S. officers

Third division elements Monday morning captured Yangyang, a partly-burned town about seven

Red leaders had promised to make Sunday a bloody day of "na-

Allies and the West German government they sponsor.

The Communists had shipped in thousands of young fanatics, trained in troublemaking, from Soviet-occupied East Germany.

They tried to create riots in the streets and squares of many cities from Hamburg to Munich. But they didn't get far against 100,000 well-organized German police.

Texas mixed passing with vicious

North Texas, 50-0.

Oklahoma A. and M. roundly out-

Porkers, TCU
to Start Loop Play

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 2 — (AP) — They say Southwest conference teams are "pass happy" and last week they were so right.

It was the forward pass that brought southern Methodist, Baylor and Rice victory, and Texas, Texas A. and M., and Arkansas found it a perfect balance for vicious running games.

There were some amazing individual performances last week, but the most amazing of all was that of Fred Benner.

Sisler Hero
as Phils Take the Pennant

Philadelphia, Oct. 2 — (AP) — Their first pennant in 35 years safely stowed away, the Philadelphia Phillies today planned to shoot the works against the highly favored
New York Yankees in the World Series starting Wednesday.

Unless he has a change of heart,
Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phils will open with Robin Roberts, 41, conqueror of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday in the game that gave the Whiz Kids the National league flag.

Roberts will be opposed by Allie
Reynolds in a battle of righthander Having clinched the American league pennant last Friday, the well-rested Yankees will rule 2-1 favorites over the tired Phils. Experts figure the Yanks have too much experience, deeper reserve strength and stronger pitching than the youthful Whiz Kids.

Philly Manager Eddie Sawyer does not appear to be worried about the Yankee prowess.

"We weren't figured to have a chance to beat Brooklyn for the pennant, were we?" he reminded.

"I haven't decided who will pitch the opener," the jubilant 40-year-old candidate for "manager of the year" added. "But I'd say that Roberts is a strong possibility."

"After all, what was good enough for the Dodgers might be good enough for the Yankees."

Roscy-cheeked Robin undoubtedly pitched the greatest game of his life. However, he knew he was in a battle with Brooklyn's Don New-combe. If Dick Sisler hadn't hit that homer with two on in the top
